

Novo-K Limited Launches BuyingStation, a user-friendly, cost-effective procurement platform

United Kingdom, 1st May 2024 - Novo-K is excited to announce the launch of its user friendly, cost effective, procurement platform, BuyingStation, with clients including Dataction Analytics and Jet2 Travel Technologies.

The launch of BuyingStation is a significant step towards our vision to be leaders in the world of tech-enabled procurement solutions, re-defining the future of procurement. BuyingStation streamlines procurement processes, delivering savings and increased efficiencies through our centralised platform. At Novo-K, we understand the challenges faced by both procurement and non-procurement professionals. That's why BuyingStation is meticulously crafted with simplified terminology and user-friendly interface. Our tagline, "Keep it Simple," because we believe in breaking down complex problems into manageable steps and keeping things simple, paving the way for Clarity, Control and ultimately Confidence.

Bringing together Contract Management, Supplier Onboarding, Project Pipeline, Spend Tracking and the ability to build Quotations and Tenders using AI. This comprehensive solution caters to modern procurement needs, offering increased clarity over supplier spend, better control of procurement activity, and confidence in supplier relationships.

With BuyingStation, Novo-K continues to uphold our legacy of providing clients with the confidence that they are working with the right suppliers in the right way. For businesses seeking to streamline their procurement processes and achieve cost savings, BuyingStation is the ultimate solution. At BuyingStation, we like to Keep it simple.

About Novo-K: Novo-K was established in 2015, with the desire to redefine procurement delivery and challenge traditional consultancies. We deliver cost-effective, agile and tech-enabled procurement solutions from global hubs. Visit www.novo-k.com to know more.
